

WON'T PLAY SUNDAY.

Anna Held has set her foot down. It is a small foot, but very decided. The cause of the operation is the proposal made to The Held by Mr. Ziegfeld, that she would play "Mlle. Napoleon" at the Grand next Sunday night. Mademoiselle promptly informed her manager that she wouldn't play Sunday nights under any circumstances. Manager Cort is therefore compelled to announce to his patrons that the house will be dark Sunday night and that "Mlle. Napoleon" will open on Monday night. Mail orders from out of town will be filled at the opening of the sale on Friday morning.
