

"HEIR TO THE HOORAH" TO PLAY RETURN DATE

Guy Bates Post and His Fine Supporting
Company to Play at the Seattle
Next Sunday.

"The Heir to the Hoorah" is booked for a return engagement in this city one week from tonight. This was decided upon yesterday, in view of the fact that many persons had been utterly unable to secure good seats during the engagement which closed last evening, and because many regular patrons of the house would have liked to have seen the play, but did not care to go to the theatre during Lent.

Owing to the fact that Creston Clarke is booked at the Grand a week from tonight, "The Heir to the Hoorah" will be played at the Seattle Theatre. The opening of the Lee Morris Company at that house, therefore, will be deferred until Monday night.
